Creche News

The children in the crèche have been learning about God's House Our Church. In God's house and our church we find lots of things: The doors are love where we find love in church both from God and with each other. We have praise where we sing, dance and fly our banners for God. We find joy where we are happy and smiling and kind to one another. We have peace and the children say this is being quiet and praying. We also learned peace is knowing God is there and with us.

The children have made a huge mural in the crèche room. Please come to see it as the children would love to show you all.

Worship at Church

Have you ever watched others when they worship at church...like when we sing worship songs? Why do some people raise their hands, close their eyes and sway while others just keep their hands in their pockets? Why do others just admit to not really liking the worship part of church because they don't really like singing? Sometimes people walk out of church saying things like, "I didn't really like the songs today," or "I just wasn't really feeling worship today," or "That singer or the band wasn't that good. It kinda took me out of it."

Worship isn't about you or the band or the songs that you're singing. It's about carving out time in our busy lives and responding to who God is and what He's done for us. It's about a deep, inner spirit response. Some days you may feel out of it and not sure of things or you might have questions for God. You might even feel mad at God because certain things in your life didn't work out the way you wanted them to. This doesn't mean that we should walk into church, slump down on the chair, fold our arms and have a scowl on our face. It's an opportunity to look up at the words on the screen and enter into a conversation with God. If you see a line you don't agree with, take it to Him. Pray that He will show you that He is those things. Worship doesn't always mean singing at the top of your lungs. It can be about just entering into His presence and giving Him what you have.
