On Christmas Eve our children and young people treated us to a wonderful drama called What is Christmas? It was a bit different to the usual nativity and gave us all a new perspective on Christmas. It's not easy to stand up in front of an audience so congratulations to everyone who took part. Thanks also to the crèche and bible club leaders who clearly put a great deal of work and effort into the drama – it paid off. Looking forward to seeing what you have in store for us this year.

Whilst reading my bible I came across Psalm 134, one I had read many times, but this time the commentary caught my eye, heart and mind:

*Praise the LORD, all you servants of the LORD
Who minister by night in the house of the LORD.
Lift up your hands in the sanctuary and praise the LORD
May the LORD bless you from Zion
He who is Maker of heaven and earth*

The Psalm is about a very small group, the Levites who served as temple watchmen. Singing this psalm, the last of the songs of ascent, the worshipers would ascend the hill where the Temple sat and see the watchmen who protected it day and night. They saw the Watchmen's work as an act of praise to God, done reverently and responsibly. The challenge it gave was for us all to "Make your job or your responsibility in the church an act of praise by doing it with reverence to God. Honour Him by the quality of your work and the attitude of service you bring to it."

Are we ready to take the challenge, brothers and sisters?
